MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, Foreign Broadcast Information Service
THROUGH: Chief, Operations Group
SUBJECT: Monthly Report -- Nicosia Bureau -- April

I. GENERAL

A. Security -- The long-awaited work to improve the exterior security of the bureau's present premises began on 17 April. The walls surrounding the building are being raised and reinforced and steel barrier gates for the driveways are being installed. Concrete planters with reinforced steel centers to protect the most vulnerable side of the building are also planned.

STAT B. Selected bureau employees received a week of safehaven training from a visiting medical technician. Regional Engineer [ ] in coordination with the medical technician, will provide similar training to additional bureau employees over the coming months.

II. OPERATIONS

A. Monitorial/Editorial

1. The security situation in Lebanon continued to deteriorate sharply in April with the outbreak of intense clashes among the various religious and political factions. The building housing the clandestine Voice of Arab Lebanon, the radio associated with the Independent Nasirite Movement--Al--Murabitun, was reportedly hit during fighting on 16 April between Amal Movement militants and a joint Palestinian-Al-Murabitun force. VOAL has been unheard on all listed frequencies since that date. The last monitored reference to the station was a 19 April report on the Lebanese Forces' clandestine Radio Free Lebanon that the Amal Movement was transporting VOAL's equipment to a location in Bi'r al-'Abd.

2. The clandestine Radio Free Lebanon went off the air on 13 April. The Phalangist Party's Voice of Lebanon reported that RFL would resume transmission "within 48 hours," after a "technical breakdown" in the station's transmitter had been repaired. The radio resumed normal operations on 18 April, apologizing for the break in transmission.

3. Nicosia Bureau's coverage of Cairo radio, Cairo MENA and Paris AFP provided valuable secondary sources of reportage on breaking developments in Sudan following the Sudanese Army's assumption of power on 6 April, particularly during periods when reception of Omdurman domestic service and of Khartoum SUNA precluded effective processing. FBIS' Wire Service made extensive use of the material filed from these sources.

B. Lateral Services -- A new Arab clandestine radio, the Voice of Vengeance and Sacred Hatred, was monitored in progress on 16 April. The bureau sampled the radio's programming for a week and determined, in coordination with MOD, that coverage was unnecessary, as the station's transmissions were limited to the propagation of virulent anti-Semitism. Nevertheless, the radio's broadcasts elicited interest at the U.S. Embassy in Rabat, conveyed through LRB, and the bureau provided our embassies in both Rabat and Tunisia with a 2-take report on talks broadcast by this radio that targeted named Jewish individuals.

C. Technical --

1. A line driver was constructed and installed at the Embassy end of the line connecting our intrusion alarm system to the Embassy Marines' Post No. 1, eliminating the false alarms that were being generated periodically.

2. A switching panel was built for the stand-by generator system at Gulf Bureau, and was installed by the regional engineer during his recent TDY.

3. Equipment Received: One Watkins-Johnson VHF receiver, Model 8731A, from Washington.

III. ADMINISTRATION

A. Personnel

1. One of the bureau's two prospective Arabic monitors being processed in Cairo has now declined to take the position, which leaves us with one in processing in Cairo, and a second candidate being processed in Paris.

2. The placement of advertisements in the local English-language press for the bureau's opening associate editor position attracted over 40 applications. Interviews are scheduled to begin in early May.

3. Bureau Chief [ ] returned on 28 April from the bureau chiefs' conference in Washington and a week's leave in Paris. STAT

4. Regional Engineer [ ] spent 10 days TDY in Bahrain 16 April to participate in Gulf Bureau's power upgrade. STAT

5. Safehaven instructor [ ] departed 5 April. STAT
